Consolidated net sales Consolidated net sales during the second quarter of 2022 increased by 11% on a like to like basis for the ongoing operations and for foreign exchange fluctuations, compared with those of the second quarter of 2021. Higher cement prices and ready-mix volumes were the main drivers of the improvement.

Cost of sales as a percentage of net sales increased by 7.8pp, from 60.2% in 2Q21 to 68.0% in 2Q22. The increase was primarily due to higher variable costs, mainly in kiln fuel.

Operating expenses as a percentage of net sales declined by 2.7pp during the quarter, from 26.0% in 2Q21 to 23.4% in 2Q22.

Operating EBITDA during the second quarter of 2022 declined by 20% on a like-to-like basis, compared with that of the second quarter of 2021. The decline was mainly due to higher operating costs, despite higher sales.

Operating EBITDA margin during the second quarter of 2022 decreased by 6.1pp compared with that of the second quarter of 2021. The positive effect from higher cement prices and ready-mix volumes was offset by higher variable costs and a negative product-mix effect.

Controlling interest net income during the second quarter was approx. US$0, compared with US$16 million during the same quarter of 2021. The decrease was mainly due to lower operating earnings, higher other expenses, net, and a negative effect in other income (expenses), net.

Year-over-year percentage variation.

In Colombia, our domestic gray cement volumes declined by 6%, while our ready-mix volumes increased by 33%, during the second quarter on a year-over-year basis.

Our cement and ready-mix prices improved by 8% and 2%, respectively, on a year-over-year basis in local-currency terms. The improvement in cement pricing was driven by our price increases in the distribution segment, implemented in December 2021 and April 2022.

In the ready-mix business, our volume growth during the quarter was supported by increased market demand in the formal sector, and our recent investments to increase the ready-mix footprint mainly in the metro areas of Bogota and Cali.

Year-over-year percentage variation.

In Panama, our domestic gray cement and ready-mix volumes increased by 6% and 25%, respectively, during the second quarter on a year-over-year basis. Volume growth was driven primarily by increased activity in the infrastructure sector, mainly in the 3rd line of the Metro. Despite the improvement, industry volumes are still below pre pandemic levels.

Our cement prices during the quarter improved by 1% on a sequential basis, stopping the downward trend observed since 2019.

During the quarter, our cement plant exported more than 65 thousand tons of cement and clinker to nearby markets with supply shortages. Please note that our exports and sales of domestic clinker, are not included in the table above which refers to volume and price variations of "Domestic gray cement".

In Guatemala, our domestic gray cement volumes declined by 12% during the quarter on a year-over-year basis. Our cement volumes declined mainly due to heavy rains during May and June, as well as to our pricing strategy.

In Nicaragua, our domestic gray cement volumes remained stable during the quarter on a year-over-year basis. After several quarters of cement volume growth in the infrastructure sector, we observed a slight decline during the quarter.

Methodology for translation and presentation of results

Under IFRS, CLH reports its consolidated results in its functional currency, which is the US Dollar, by translating the financial statements of foreign subsidiaries using the corresponding exchange rate at the reporting date for the balance sheet and the corresponding exchange rates at the end of each month for the income statement.

For the reader's convenience, Colombian peso amounts for the consolidated entity are calculated by converting the US dollar amounts using the closing COP/US$ exchange rate at the reporting date for balance sheet purposes, and the average COP/US$ exchange rate for the corresponding period for income statement purposes. The exchange rates are provided below.

Per-country/region selected financial information of the income statement is presented before corporate charges and royalties which are included under "other and intercompany eliminations."

Consolidated financial information

When reference is made to consolidated financial information means the financial information of CLH together with its consolidated subsidiaries.

Presentation of financial and operating information

Individual information is provided for Colombia and Panama.

Countries in the Rest of CLH include Nicaragua and Guatemala.
