Consolidated net sales Consolidated net sales during the first quarter of 2022 increased by 13% on a like-to-like basis adjusting for foreign exchange fluctuations, compared with those of the first quarter of 2021. Higher consolidated volumes and cement prices were the main drivers of the improvement.

Cost of sales as a percentage of net sales increased by 4.2pp, from 61.4% in 1Q21 to 65.6% in 1Q22. The increase was primarily due to higher variable costs, mainly in kiln fuel.

Operating expenses as a percentage of net sales declined by 1.0pp during the quarter, from 26.8% in 1Q21 to 25.8% in 1Q22.

Operating EBITDA during the first quarter of 2022 declined by 10% on a like-to-like basis, compared with that of the first quarter of 2021. The decline was mainly due to higher operating costs, despite higher sales.

Operating EBITDA margin during the first quarter of 2022 decreased by 4.2pp compared with that of the first quarter of 2021. The positive effect from higher volumes and prices was offset by higher variable costs.

Controlling interest net income during the first quarter was US$16 million, compared with US$4 million during the same quarter of 2021. The improvement was mainly due to a positive effect in Other Income and Expenses, net, and in Discontinued operations.

In Colombia, our domestic gray cement, ready-mix and aggregates volumes increased by 4%, 14% and 16%, respectively, during the quarter. Regarding pricing, our cement prices improved by 5% and 1% on a sequential and year-over-year basis, respectively, in local currency terms. The 5% increase in cement pricing on a sequential basis was driven by our price increase executed in December.

In April we executed an additional cement price increase in the distribution segment, of approximately 10%, as part of our efforts to close the gap with the sharp input-cost inflation.

In the ready-mix business, our volume growth during the quarter was supported by increased market demand in the formal sector, and our recent investments to increase the ready-mix footprint mainly in the metro areas of Bogota and Cali.

Year-over-year percentage variation.

In Panama, our domestic gray cement, ready-mix and aggregates volumes increased by 5%, 15% and 20%, respectively, during the quarter. Volume growth in our cement and ready-mix businesses was driven primarily by increased activity in the infrastructure sector, mainly in the 3rd line of the Metro. Despite the improvement, industry volumes are still below pre pandemic levels.

During the quarter, our cement plant exported more than 80 thousand tons of cement and clinker to nearby markets with supply shortages. Please note that our sales of domestic clinker and exports are not included in the table above which refers to volume and price variations of "Domestic gray cement".

Methodology for translation and presentation of results

Under IFRS, CLH reports its consolidated results in its functional currency, which is the US Dollar, by translating the financial statements of foreign subsidiaries using the corresponding exchange rate at the reporting date for the balance sheet and the corresponding exchange rates at the end of each month for the income statement.

For the reader's convenience, Colombian peso amounts for the consolidated entity are calculated by converting the US dollar amounts using the closing COP/US$ exchange rate at the reporting date for balance sheet purposes, and the average COP/US$ exchange rate for the corresponding period for income statement purposes. The exchange rates are provided below.

Per-country/region selected financial information of the income statement is presented before corporate charges and royalties which are included under "other and intercompany eliminations."

Consolidated financial information

When reference is made to consolidated financial information means the financial information of CLH together with its consolidated subsidiaries.

Presentation of financial and operating information

Individual information is provided for Colombia and Panama.

Countries in the Rest of CLH include Nicaragua and Guatemala.

Operating EBITDA equals operating earnings before other expenses, net, plus depreciation and operating amortization.

pp equals percentage points.

EoP equals End of Period.

Strategic capital expenditures are investments incurred with the purpose of increasing CLH's profitability. These include capital expenditures on projects designed to increase profitability by expanding capacity, and margin improvement capital expenditures, which are projects designed to increase profitability by reducing costs.

Working capital equals operating accounts receivable (including other current assets received as payment in kind) plus historical inventories minus operating payables.
